Your 7th Tradition Contributions to Central Office Help Carry the Message

Contributions from you and your home group to the Central Office directly support the day-to-day services that connect still-suffering alcoholics to Alcoholics Anonymous in our local community.

Central Office is often the first place a newcomer, family member, hospital, court, or professional calls when they need help finding A.A.

Your support keeps these services running every single day.

24-Hour Phone Line & Twelfth Step Calls

Central Office maintains the local A.A. hotline so that anyone, at any hour, can speak to a sober member. Volunteers coordinate Twelfth Step calls, connecting newcomers with A.A. members willing to meet, talk, or take them to a meeting. This is often the first human contact a suffering alcoholic has with A.A.

Meeting Schedules & Accurate Information

Central Office prints, updates, and distributes meeting schedules and maintains accurate listings for websites, apps, and printed materials so newcomers, professionals, and members can always find a meeting. Without this, people show up to locked doors.

AA Books & Other Literature Distribution

Central Office stocks and distributes A.A. literature to groups, treatment centers, professionals, and newcomers. Groups rely on Central Office to keep books, pamphlets, and friendship folders available locally. This ensures the message is always in print and in reach.

Information for the Public & Professionals

Courts, hospitals, counselors, clergy, and family members regularly contact Central Office for help finding meetings or getting A.A. information. Central Office provides accurate materials and directions to A.A. for the public. They are the front door of A.A. for the community.

Chips, Medallions & Group Supplies

Central Office keeps sobriety chips, medallions, and group supplies available so groups don't have to order from far away or wait weeks. This supports celebrations of recovery every day.

Your Contributions Make This Possible

Rent. Phone lines. Printing. Literature inventory. Volunteer coordination. Website updates. Supplies.

Central Office is not an office building — it is a service hub that helps carry the message locally, every single day. When your group contributes to Central Office, you are helping the alcoholic who hasn't found us yet. Your Contributions Make This Possible.

Sober Activities

Submitted by Kristy B.

One of the biggest fears many of us had before getting sober was that life would become boring. The truth is often the exact opposite. Once alcohol is removed, we discover something we may have forgotten along the way—there is an entire world waiting to be experienced.

Recovery gives us the opportunity to try new things, reconnect with old interests, and build friendships based on genuine connection rather than shared drinking. Whether it's camping, gardening, photography, reading, volunteering, exercising, learning a new skill, or simply spending time with family, sober activities help fill our lives with purpose and meaning.

A.A. teaches us that sobriety is more than not drinking—it is learning how to live. Many members find that service work, sponsorships, workshops, conventions, and fellowship events become some of the most rewarding activities they have ever experienced. If you're looking for something to do this month, try one new activity from the list below. You may discover a new passion, make a new friend, or find a new way to strengthen your recovery.

1 Mindfulness and Self-Care

- Start a daily meditation or mindfulness practice to help with focus and emotional balance.
- Try journaling or poetry writing to explore your thoughts and emotions.
- Practice deep breathing or yoga to improve mental clarity and reduce stress.

2 Creative Pursuits

- Learn a new skill like painting, pottery, or photography.
- Take an online course in a subject you've always wanted to explore.
- Try cooking or baking—even alcohol-free cocktails or mocktails can be fun to make.

3 Outdoor and Nature Activities

- Go camping, even in your backyard or on a patio.
- Take a hike, bike ride, or visit a local park.
- Join a community garden or urban farming project.

4 Social and Community Engagement

- Attend a coffee party or book club—these are popular sober social events.
- Volunteer for a cause you care about; it builds connections and gives purpose.
- Join a local sports team, fitness class, or cultural event.

5 Games and Entertainment Without Alcohol

- Play board games, card games, or trivia nights.
- Host a movie night with friends, focusing on conversation and shared experiences.
- Try escape rooms or escape-style games that don't require drinking.

6 Travel and Exploration

- Plan a trip to a new city or country—even a weekend getaway can be refreshing.
- Explore local art galleries, museums, or farmers' markets.
- Take a cooking class in a different city.

7 Mindful Socializing

- Bring a non-alcoholic drink to gatherings—sparkling water, mocktails, or alcohol-free beer/wine can make you feel included.
- Focus on quality conversations rather than alcohol-fueled banter.

8 Wellness and Fitness

- Join a gym, dance class, or martial arts class.
- Try meditation apps or guided retreats.
- Practice mindful walking or nature walks.

TIP: The key is to replace alcohol with activities that bring you joy, connection, and mental clarity. Over time, these new habits can make your sober life feel more fulfilling and sustainable.

SOBER LADIES, IT'S TIME TO SAY "YES" TO SERVICE.

Service requirements:

Are you strong enough to offer your AA service?

Area 27 is calling all wonderful, beautiful, knowledgeable and sober AA women to pass on the AA message to ladies who are unfortunately incarcerated. These sister of ours need to hear our stories of experience, faith and hope. They need to know there is a solution to their alcoholism and a better spiritual way of living. We need to spread the message of Alcoholics Anonymous to these ladies. A few hours of your time can help other women know the serenity and peace you have found in your sobriety.

A person with long, curly hair is seen from behind, sitting in a wooden Adirondack chair on a stone patio. They are looking out over a calm lake towards a sunset. The sun is a bright orange circle on the horizon, reflecting on the water. The sky is filled with soft, orange and yellow clouds. In the background, there are silhouettes of trees and distant hills. The entire scene is framed by a dark blue border with white decorative corners.

Technology in Recovery

Carrying the message in a connected world

Our phones, our meetings, our messages: technology is already part of how we get sober and stay sober. Come talk honestly about how we use it, and how we keep it from using us. Everyone in recovery is welcome.

- 1 How can technology support our recovery without dominating or controlling us?
- 2 How do we use these tools to connect with each other while protecting anonymity?
- 3 What good practices should we keep in mind when we use technology?
- 4 How can technology keep us organized so we can focus on recovery and service to others?

Join us and be part of the discussion.

SCHOLARSHIPS: Help those who are unable to pay the registration fee.

Why we have to register: A convention is not a regular AA meeting but a special event that requires a significant amount of money to be successful. The Tri-State Convention is self-supporting and paid for through registration fees plus voluntary contributions from individual members or groups. No baskets are passed at the convention, and attendance is of course voluntary. As responsible AA members we always pay our way.

Registration Use Only: Pmt received by: _____ Method of Payment: _____
